

The FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections. Indiana's Telephone Privacy law has improved my time at home immensely. Rather than 25 to 35 calls from telemarketers, I now received only one or two in a week, at most. Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections are the best legislation ever passed from my view point.